Introduction

Attract butterflies to your garden by making your own butterfly cafe. Don't forget to send us a picture at bluepeter@bbc.co.uk

Instructions

Step 1

Take a plastic bottle of any size.

Step 2

Very carefully cut off the bottom third with scissors.

Step 3

Punch a hole through the lid with scissors (ask an adult for help!) and push a piece of string through. Tie a knot in the end of the string so it doesn't pull all the way through the bottle cap.

Step 4

Cut the sides of the plastic bottle into petal shapes ensuring you don't cut too far down so it will still hold water.

Step 5

Punch two holes either side for string to be pulled through so it can be hung from a tree or a post.

Step 6

Decorate brightly and then fill with sugar water: 1 teaspoon soy sauce, 1 teaspoon of sugar and mix with water. Your cafe is now ready to be hung outside ready for the butterflies.
