Paper Plate Puppet

You will need

Print-out

Orange paint

White paint

Black paint

Paint pots

2 Paint brushes

2 Paper plates

or card cake bases

Scissors

Brown felt tip

Old black sock

Old cereal box

2 Bottle tops

Pink paper

Yellow card

Orange card

Ball of string

or yarn

1

Mix the orange paint with a little bit of white paint to make the shade needed for Kwazii's face. Use this mix to paint the back of one of your paper plates. Leave to dry.

2

To make the pocket for your hand, cut the other paper plate in half and add glue to the outer edge before sticking it to the back of your painted paper plate.

Carefully tear off a piece on one of the ears before gluing them to the top of the front of your painted plate.

3

To begin decorating Kwazii's face, you can use the printout or with an adults help cut out two triangles out of orange card and glue two smaller triangles made from yellow card within them.

5

To make Kwazii's nose, stick two yellow bottle tops and a crumpled piece of pink paper to the front of the painted plate.

7

To add Kwazii's whisker marks, use a brown felt tip pen to draw three spots on either side of the bottle tops.

9

To make Kwazii's eye, cut the shape out of an old cereal box and colour it in black leaving a white dot.

6

Use the printout or draw and cut out Kwazii's hat. Colour it in and glue it to the top of the plate between his ears.

8

Paint a long piece of string black and glue it across the width of the plate to make part of Kwazii's eye patch.

10

To make the eye patch, use an old sock to cut out the shape. Glue them both into place on your painted paper plate.
